

BINGHAMTON UNIVERSITY CREDIT EVALUATION

When viewing your Transfer Transcript and Evaluation, a course equivalency indicates that a transferred course has a direct Binghamton course equivalent. Example: Microeconomics from the transfer school equals Binghamton's ECON 160 Microeconomics. When known, equivalencies are placed on your preliminary transfer credit evaluation.

When a course equivalency is not readily known, the placeholder XXX is used. Example: Transfer school ECON course from the transfer school equals Binghamton's ECON XXX (unspecified ECON course).

Please keep in mind:

You are receiving credit for both courses bearing equivalencies and for courses bearing an XXX.

Courses bearing an XXX that are possibly applicable towards the major will be evaluated by departmental advisers at orientation. If necessary, equivalencies will be established at that time.

Not every course on a transfer record will require an equivalency to count toward the degree.
